

The False Note

By Theo Konrad Auer

Has been rung,
As air is a fluid,
Sound can be seen
The Bay Area fog wraps you
A damp blanket
As futile as a bleached flag
On the moon

Nationalism loses meaning when nature is a competitor,
There are losers in Australia
And we are confused here,
No question about that
In a world where all the Wrong queries get easy answers, brush burns

The Gameshow became reality

We keep watching even those of us who refuse to own TVs
The laptops and phones entrance

The memes are a thing that remains a thing
Gets blurry in hindsight
Except it's clearer than
The feeling you felt
When you took offense to the tide

The Lazy Susan needs oil
Rolls noisily

The seats are being filled
They'll be warm soon

“LUNCH MUMBLES”
How hasn't that been used as a band name?

A band is doing a contest to pick a name. It won't be that. Sigh.

The Lazy Susan wasn't working right. Gave Metallica a hiccup.

The Chase Center was designed by an architect who wasn't familiar with Steph Curry's famed three point shot.
He used to open up games with a pre - game three just after exiting the locker room.

Now such a shot is impossible.

There are certainly bad actors
In abundance
But there is a low probability
That the factory settings will come into play.

There is a theory that each and every decision gives birth to an alternate universe,
I don't subscribe to that or the afterlife and I think this is our one and only shot.

We call Frankenstein "Frankenstein"
But did he have a name?
Surely he did!
Was he just Frankenstein's monster or "Frankenstein"?
No one remembers his name,
It was lost and couldn't be translated, broken down or pulled apart.
Perhaps that was the point.

A census of ignorance is being undertaken,
Right now!
You might be unaware,
That's the point.
The false note has a sound,
Well, actually it has several and one of them is being rung at this hour at an undisclosed public location,
It's a conceptual art deal in Elsewhere.

Did you hear it?
Oh crap, I was on airplane mode.

Forever changes.
